1. Analysis of the company

1.1 A sip of history

Nowadays Super Bock is the best-selling Portuguese beer in the world, and although there are numerous competing brands, the company currently maintains a leading position in Portugal, being the most consumed and popular beer on national territory (Euromonitor, 2023).

1926

This milestone was achieved through a long journey that began in 1926, when Super Bock began to build roots through trademark registration on November 9th. The initial history of the brand was rather tumultuous, but it did not slow down the expansion of Super Bock, which began sponsoring a number of sporting events, perfecting its working system, opening breweries and the first factory in Porto.

70s

Since the 70s, Super Bock has been "a cerveja que supera a sua exigência" because from this time on the brand started building its image as a strong and premium choice. April 25, 1974 brought with it the nationalization of Unicer (the father of the Super Bock Group).

80s

In the 80s the company received the first Monde Sélection Gold Medal and became the market leader with a sales record of 300 M liters.

90s

Technological advancements led the brand's further expansion and in the late 90s the company reached other important milestones: the birth of "Super Bock Super Rock" in 1995 (a popular summer festival in Portugal with 20 hours of music and 13 bands, and the sponsorship of the Expo 1998 held in Lisbon.

2000s

"Sabor autêntico" started to be one of the main features to link to the brand's image in the early 2000, when the phrase was included in the product's labels and packaging, and Super Bock's leading position was confirmed in 2005 being the #1 ordered beer in Portugal.

Super Bock became the only authentic and magnetic portuguese beer, the one for excellence in social moments, thanks to its constant presence and its positive and close energy. Following this path, the company launched a radio station - the SBSR.FM Radio - in 2016, in order to create another constant communication channel for the brand.

1.2 The products

The 2000s saw the growth of the brand's portfolio, seeing the launch of many new products that still persist today.

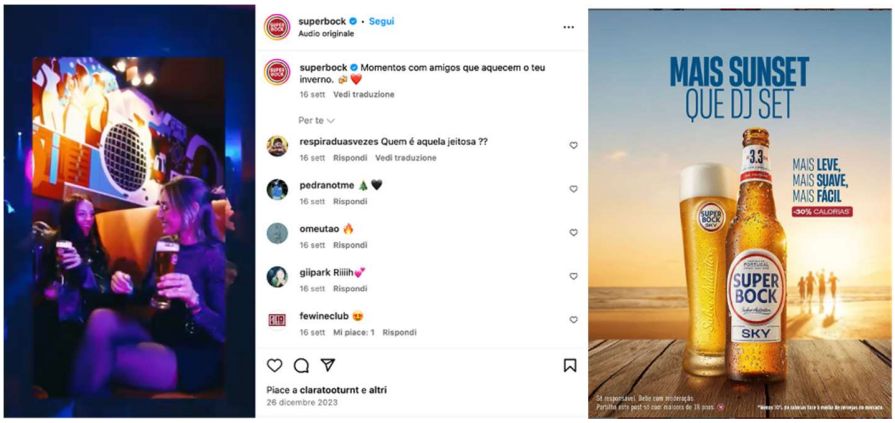

1.3 Segmentation

Regarding Super Bock's segmentation process, we decided to analyze its target audience through demographic, psychographic, behavioral, geographic and occasion-based characteristics.

- Demographic: adults between 18-60, both men and women.[1] Even if its communication may lean more towards men, particularly through partnership and communication related to football and sports (Liga Portugal, Sporting CP, FC Porto, and Clube de Futebol Os Belenenses).

- Occupation: working professionals (office workers, freelancers, entrepreneurs, blue-collar employees) and students or individuals between 18 and 25.[2]

- Psychographic and behaviors: consumers who value quality, authenticity and enjoyment of life. In general, people who enjoy socializing, partying and drinking in company. [3]

- Geographic: focus on Portuguese market.[4]
- Occasion-based: different occasions, such as relaxing at home, social gatherings and outdoor activities. [5]

[1] They target both men and women, as evident in their advertising campaign (e.g Instagram).
[2] often represented enjoying beers during happy hours, social gathering with colleagues, during business meetings or networking events.
[3] By aligning with these traits, the brand reinforces the brand identity on its channels through captions like ("mais sunset, que dj set"; "momentos com amigos que aquecem o teu inverno").
[4] Despite being present in 56 the company maintains a strong emphasis on its domestic market.
[5] Its marketing and products are more tailored to outdoor events and partying, but they support individual consumption at home too.

1.4 Positioning

Super Bock values several qualities that are integral to its identity and success in the market:

- Quality: Super Bock prioritizes quality in every aspect of its brewing process, from the selection of the ingredients to the packaging.

- Portuguese authenticity: dating back to 1927, Super Bock embraces authenticity as a cornerstone of its brand. Staying true to its heritage, the company has earned the trust and loyalty of generations of local consumers. This authenticity it's further exemplified by its connection to the sport, not just through sponsorships, but also through community involvement ("Super Bock has been at the forefront of grassroots football initiatives, nurturing young talent and ensuring that the future of Portuguese football remains bright" or "Because we are authentic, we make our world more authentic").

- Innovation: While honoring its traditional legacy, Super Bock also embraces innovation to stay relevant in a dynamic market. Whether through new product developments, creative marketing campaigns, or engaging consumer experiences, the brand continually seeks to push boundaries and evolve.

- Enjoyment of Life: Super Bock believes in enhancing life's moments through the enjoyment of its beer.

- Social Connection: Super Bock recognizes the power of beer to bring people together and foster social connections. Super Bock it's more than just a beverage but it presents itself as an example of socializing and enjoyment. "At the end when you pop open a bottle of Super Bock, you're not just savoring a beer you're becoming part of a legacy."

- Economic Brand: Super Bock positions itself as an economical beer brand, offering a range of products that are affordable to different targets.

2. Analysis of the industry

2.1 Competitors

In order to develop a successful digital marketing strategy, we studied who our competitors are and what they offer to the market, so that we could pinpoint our competitive advantage in the business.
According to the data we found out in a survey[6], Super Bock is the most consumed brand in Portugal with 71,9% of Portuguese consumers drinking it and is followed by Sagres (48.5%), Gutbier (20.5%), Somersby (19.5%) and Heineken (17.1%)
From an awareness point of view, Super Bock is the most familiar brand among the respondents (86,5%), followed by Sagres (81,8%), Heineken (30,3%), Carlsberg (13,1%), Cristal (5,4%), Corona (4,7%) e Imperial (4,4%); and when portugueses are called to answer the question about their favorite beer, Super Bock once again came out on top as the preferred option (48,5%), substantially outperforming Sagres (21,9%), Somersby (5,8%) and Heineken (4,7%). As a result of these data, we can state as obvious considerations that Heineken, Somersby, Carlsberg and Gutbier are great competitors, but the first main rival of Super Bock is obviously Sagres. After a deep analysis of our competitors and their communication we found the following key points:

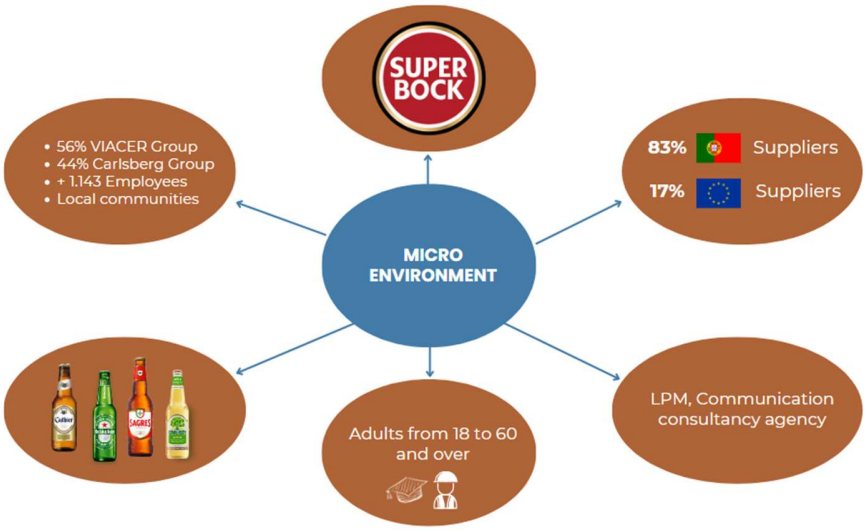

Gutbier	Heineken	Somersby	Sagres

• Foreign beer (Germany) • zero communication	• Most famous beer in the world • international lifestyle • popular sponsorships • rich story and heritage	• Foreign option (Denmark) • it's cyder, not beer • younger audience	• Rich history • traditional portuguese beer • preferred in the South of Portugal • archenemy of Super Bock

2.2 The Challenges faced in the current market context

Internal environment – Micro:

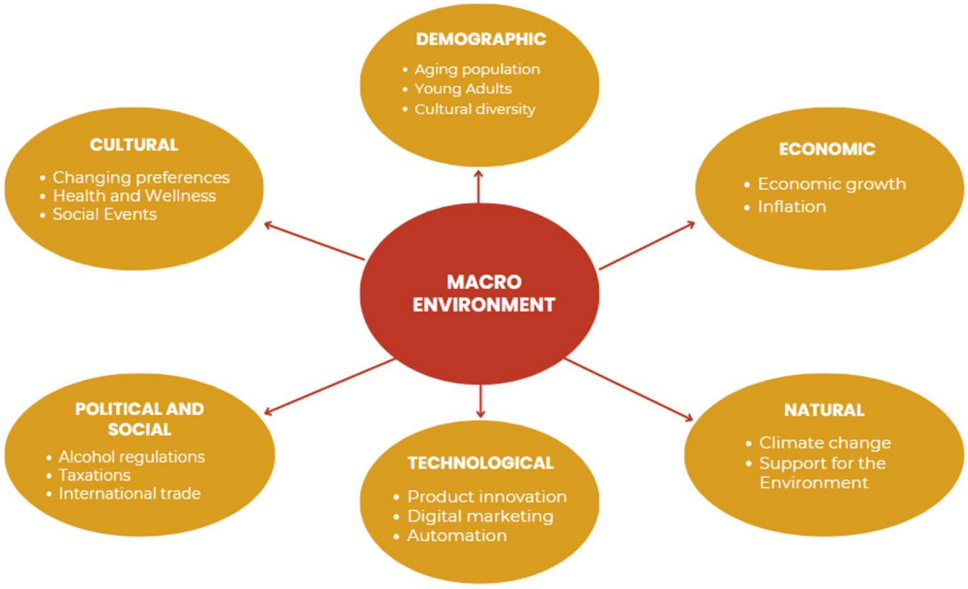

Super Bock can influence its micro-environment, unlike the macro-environment, since, considering its position, it has a certain amount of power over the other players.

[6] (MultiDados, 2022).

External environment – Macro[7]:

Analysis of the macro-environment enables us to take stock of Super Bock's external environment and therefore to be aware of all the factors external to the company that may have a direct or indirect impact on it.

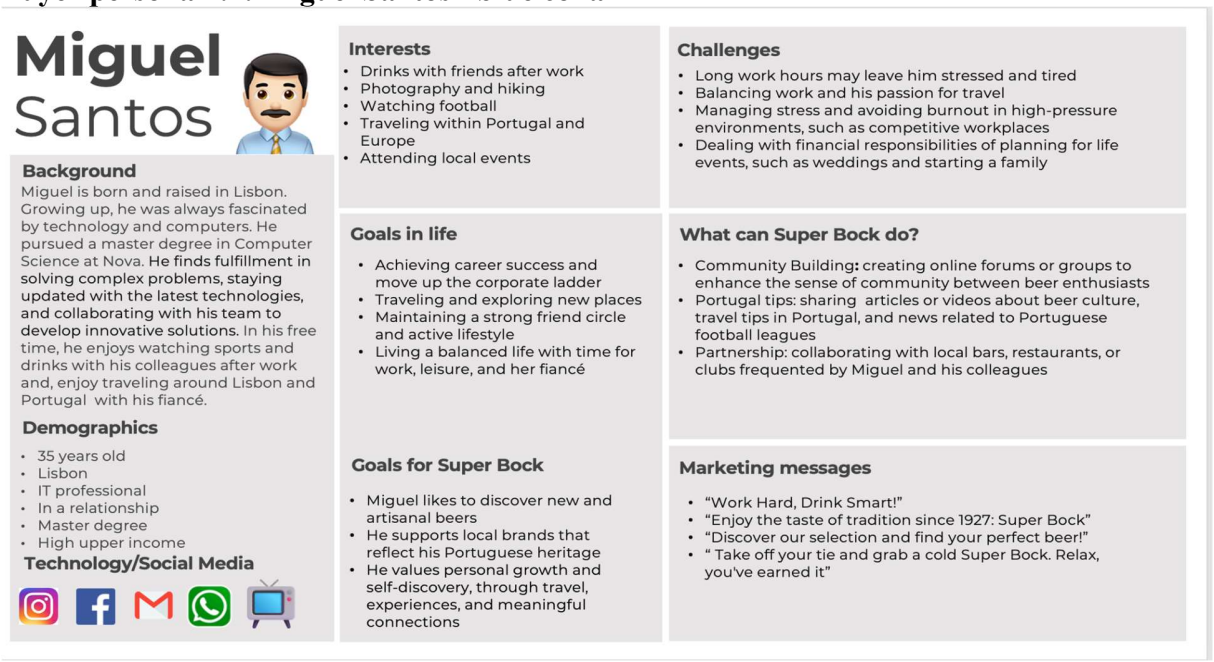

[7] see "appendix" at the end for a deeper and expanded analysis

3. Analysis of the consumers

3.1 Buyer personas

We have decided to create three distinct buyer personas to better understand the behavior, needs, and interests of our ideal Super Bock customers. Based on these profiles, we tried to craft tailored marketing messages and activities that the brand could offer them to meet their needs. For instance, let's consider the second buyer persona, who doesn't consume alcohol but enjoys the taste of 0.0% beers; we have imagined a potential educational campaign centered around responsible drinking, as well as an expansion of our product line to include more non-alcoholic options.

Buyer persona n.1: Miguel Santos - blue collar

Buyer persona n.2: Filipa Ferreira - primary school teacher, who doesn't drink alcohol

Filipa Ferreira

Background

Filipa, a 45-year-old primary teacher, lives in Porto. She's married and has two children. Filipa commutes to work by bike and enjoys taking her kids to watch the sunset at a park after school. While Filipa used to enjoy alcohol, she gave it up after her first pregnancy. Nowadays, she prefers non-alcoholic options. Filipa is health-conscious, opting for organic food, and encourages her husband to join her in seeking alternatives to traditional alcoholic beverages.

Demographics

- 45 years old
- Porto, Portugal
- Primary school teacher
- Married
- Master degree
- Middle to upper-middle income

Technology/Social Media

Interests

- Maintaining a balanced lifestyle and making healthier choices, including avoiding alcohol consumption
- Valuing family above all else
- Enjoying social gatherings with friends and colleagues
- Appreciating dining out and exploring new restaurants in the city

Challenges

- Expectations or peer pressure to drink alcohol during social events
- Balances the demands of work and family life
- Struggles with finding non-alcoholic options

Goals in life

- Achieving career satisfaction
- Providing a nurturing and supportive environment for her children
- Cultivating meaningful relationships with family and friends
- Promoting health and wellness through conscious lifestyle choices

What can Super Bock do?

- Expand product line: introducing new flavors and variations of non-alcoholic beers to different tastes and preferences
- Inclusive marketing: showcasing women in professional settings and social events enjoying our products
- Education and awareness: educating consumers about the benefits of moderation and responsible drinking through adv campaigns

Goals for Super Bock

- She seeks alcohol-free alternatives during social occasions
- She desire to join events without feeling left out due to not her drinking alcoholic choices
- Desires a non-alcoholic beverage option that offers the same taste as alcoholic beverages

Marketing messages

- "Guilt-Free! Super bock non-alcoholic beers offer the same crisp, satisfying taste without the alcohol"
- "Celebrate Life, Your Way! Join the party without the hangover with Super Bock"
- "Embrace the joy of a great beer, without the alcohol: Super Bock free "
- " Now, you can: Super Bock free "

Buyer persona n.3: Pedro Costa - university student

Pedro Costa

Background

Pedro is a university student born and raised in Sintra, Portugal. He enjoys surfing and spending time with his friends. Pedro is always ready to try new experiences with them and is up for adventures. He takes pride in his Portuguese heritage and appreciates brands that reflect it, expressing authenticity and tradition.

Demographics

- 23 years old
- Sintra, Portugal
- Marketing student
- Single
- Bachelor degree
- Low to middle income

Technology/Social Media

Interests

- Socializing with friends after school
- Trying new beers and drinks
- Watching sports with friends
- Traveling
- Attending festivals and sports events

Challenges

- Pressuring towards assignments, coursework, exams and social life
- As university student, he faces budget limitation
- Uncertainty about the future and his career path
- Fear of missing out (FOMO) when seeing peers in social events or traveling, when he's busy at school

Goals in life

- Striving to excel in his studies and pursuing a successful career in marketing
- Exploring his passions and interests outside of the academic environment
- Supporting causes he cares about, such as youth mentorship, environmental initiatives, and community events

What can Super Bock do?

- Education support: collaborating with universities or student organizations to offer educational workshops, seminars, or scholarships
- Social engagement: organising social events targeting university students
- Career: Super Bock can offer internship programs targeting Pedro interests
- Financial support: introducing promotional offers or discounts specifically aimed at university students

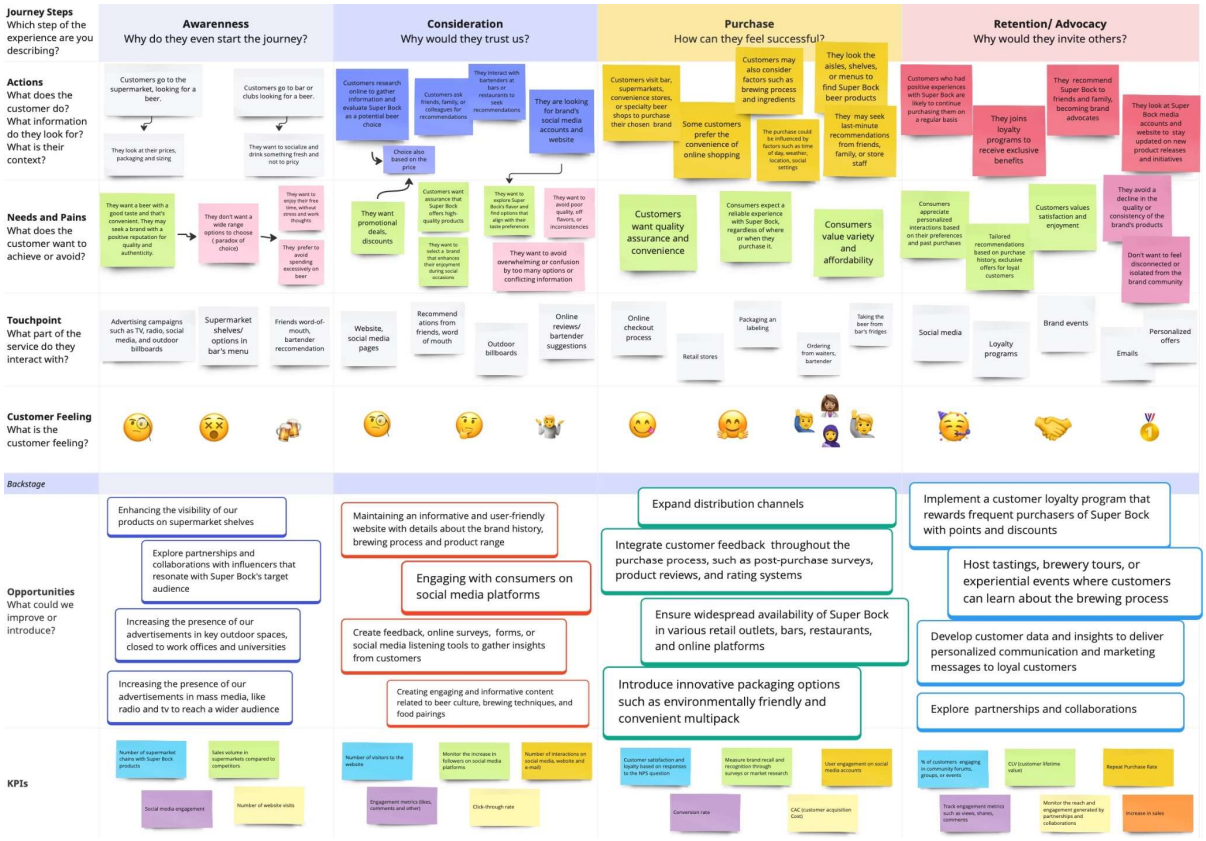

Goals for Super Bock

- He looks for a beer brand with balanced high quality and low price
- Enjoys beers during parties, barbecues, and watching sports games
- He focus on convenience in purchasing beer, preferring brands that are available in local supermarkets, stores and bars closer to him

Marketing messages

- "Super Bock: Your Budget-Friendly Beer"
- "Less stress, more fun: drink Super Bock!"
- "Good vibes only! Super Bock: Your soundtrack to a stress-free day"
- " Some things shouldn't be stressful or stirred: Super Bock"

3.2 Customer journey

4. Digital marketing strategy

4.1 Marketing goals

Our primary goal is to enhance Super Bock brand image and perception by cultivating a deeper sense of community.

Through this marketing objective, our team also aims to achieve secondary, yet interconnected goals, such as:

- Maintaining Super Bock as one of the most consumed beer brands in the Portuguese market.[8][9]
- Improving the brand's image and fostering a deeper connection with Portugal's story and heritage, particularly through social events, community engagement, and sports.
- Expanding our presence in the southern region of Portugal.

To achieve these goals, our marketing strategy will employ a variety of tools, encompassing both digital and traditional channels. Specifically, our approach will center on utilizing Super Bock-owned media platforms such as its website, Instagram, Facebook, TikTok and YouTube accounts. Additionally, we will incorporate outdoor events, billboards, and advertising campaigns across the main social media channels.

Linked to our primary goal, our team want to achieve several KPIs, such as:

- Enhance brand loyalty (by measuring customer retention rates over specific time periods to track customers who keep buying Super Bock).
- Create positive brand sentiment online (through social media sentiment analysis tools and online reviews and ratings).
- Enhance Engagement and a sense of community in outdoor events and activities, (through community engagement indicators, such as the number of user-generated content related to the event or activity, and the level of social media chatter generated during and after events)
- Increase sales and revenue growth (analyzing sales data to identify which Super Bock beer products or promotions are driving the most revenue growth).
- Increase the visibility and the views on the main social media account, particularly on TikTok account, that has 35 following, 1825 followers, 30.1 k likes, (tracking key metrics as followers count, video views, and likes).

After deciding our marketing goal, we analyzed all the Super Bock owned media to identify the appropriate digital channels to use, in order to be aligned with our target and our subset objectives.

[8] https://www.statista.com/statistics/1423212/portugal-most-consumed-beer-brands/

[9] According to a survey conducted by MultiDados, Portuguese people seem to prefer Super Bock: it is the preferred brand of 49.8% of the respondents and is also the most consumed by 71.9%

4.2 Marketing tactics

To enhance our brand image and customer perception, we brainstormed various tactics targeting both students and workers. Aligned with one of our key performance indicators focusing on brand loyalty, we conceived a loyalty program linked to the Super Bock website.

Whenever a consumer purchases a Super Bock beer at a club, restaurant, or supermarket, they can scan the QR code found inside the bottle cap to enter a contest. The person will have the chance to win several prizes, such as Super Bock gadgets, t-shirt, cap, surf equipment, football balls of the main Portuguese leagues, as well as tickets to sports and music events associated with our brand. This initiative not only allows Super Bock to measure customer retention rates over specific time frames but also facilitates tracking of customers who consistently purchase Super Bock. Moreover, the tracking of participation in the program and the analysis of consumer interactions with the brand's digital platforms would enables the gathering of new customer data and other valuable insights that can be used to apply a data driven approach and create targeted offers and marketing messages. Finally, this program could allow the brand to increase sales and revenue growth.

A second tactic would be focused on a permanent testimonial, someone who's Portuguese and who represents the values and attributes of Super Bock. For this reason, we thought about Tiago Pires.
Tiago Pires, also known as "Saca" is a Portuguese surfer who has made different contributions to the sport both locally and internationally; he was the first Portuguese surfer to compete in the [10] see "appendix" at the end for a deeper and expanded analysis.

World Surf League Championship Tour. He's famous for his passion, authenticity, and dedication. We choose Tiago for his values aligned with Super Bock ones:

- Authenticity and Passion: for surfing, values that resonate with Super Bock's image as an authentic and passionate brand.
- Community Spirit: Pires can help Super Bock to create a sense of community and the endorsement among the surfing community.
- Active and Healthy Lifestyle: Tiago represents an active and healthy lifestyle and Super Bock could leverage this image to promote sporting events, outdoor activities, and a balanced lifestyle.
- Connection with nature: Surfing is closely tied to nature and sustainability. Through this partnership, Super Bock could promote eco-friendly initiatives, highlighting their commitment to the environment.
- International Reach: Tiago has an international presence. This can help Super Bock strengthen its brand not only locally but also in international markets.

This partnership could additionally allow Super Bock to achieve another key performance indicator: enhancing engagement and fostering a sense of community through outdoor events and activities.
In fact, we aim to associate our brand with the main surfing schools in Costa da Caparica and Carcavelos Beach, linking Super Bock with sports, nature, social enjoyment, and fun. This will create a sense of belonging and community, particularly within the surfing and outdoor activity circles.
The last tactic focuses on increasing the visibility and views on Super Bock's social media accounts, particularly on Instagram, Facebook, and TikTok. We plan to leverage Bocktoberfest[11], a beer festival already implemented by the brand in September 2023. This beer festival represents a synergy with the original German beer festival, offering consumers a 360º experience with Super Bock Original beers, tasting opportunities with German's beers, and the chance to discover traditional German cuisine. During this event, Super Bock will showcase challenges and both physical and online contests on their social media accounts to boost engagement and increase the virality of their videos. In particular we will leverage the TikTok account, as it is the most appropriate channel to showcase short and funny videos, also because Super Bock has undervalued its power and its trend setting nature.

Tactic 1: loyalty program

For the loyalty program, we're going to use the Super Bock website to increase engagement and traffic. This strategy will impact the purchase decision stage of the customer journey, as well as the retention phase. First, the contest and the possibility of winning different gadgets will encourage more customers to buy Super Bock products and provide an additional reason for existing customers to continue purchasing them. As people drink Super Bock, it grows their desire to earn more points, along with their connection to the brand. In fact, our goal is to create a sense of community, aiming to make consumers feel closer to Super Bock and, at the same time, to other consumers of the brand.
We will leverage Super Bock social media platforms to promote this strategy. Additionally, personalized email campaigns will be implemented to remind customers of their point status, upcoming contests, and exclusive rewards, in order to maintain a consistent touchpoint with the brand.

[11] https://www.superbockarena.pt/evento/bocktober-fest/

The intended gains for the company would be:

- To increase brand awareness: enhancing the visibility of Super Bock across their own digital channels. This can be measured through reach and impressions, which include the number of people who see the ads or online contents and the number of people who participate in the contest.
- To enhance engagement rates: creating a deeper connection with consumers through interactive contents and personalized communication. KPIs for this gain would include engagement metrics such as likes, shares, comments, and overall interaction rates on social media posts and regarding the website, the time spent and the number of people who participate.
- To improve customer loyalty and retention: strengthening customer relationships and encouraging repeat purchases. We plan to measure it through the percentage of customers who made repeat purchases and the customer lifetime value (CLV).
- To increase sales and revenue: driving higher sales via focused and engaging marketing initiatives. Sales could be measured through the percentage increase in sales over a specific period; return on investment (ROI) to measure the profitability of marketing campaigns; and the customer retention rate, via the percentage of customers who continue to purchase over a determined period.

Tactic 2: permanent testimonial

Our main goal is to enhance Super Bock's image and perception by creating a deeper connection with their customers and Portuguese roots. For this reason, we considered a celebrity ambassador, Tiago Pires. This strategy will impact the consideration and retention phases of our customers. In fact, potential customers will start to consider Super Bock as a brand that shares their values of passion, authenticity, and dedication; making the brand more attractive to those who are fans of Pires and who resonate with these values.
Existing customers who are fans of Tiago may feel a stronger connection to Super Bock, increasing brand loyalty and encouraging repeat purchases.
We're going to leveraging Super Bock social media accounts, in order to share behind-the-scenes content, videos, interviews and lifestyle shots with Tiago; digital ads, like display and search ads featuring our testimonial to drive traffic to Super Bock website and social media pages; additionally content marketing, articles and features in online magazines, blogs, and surfing-related websites (paid, earned media) and finally PR and media relations (paid media, earned).
The intended gains for the company would be:

- To increase brand awareness: using Tiago Pires' fame could allow us to increase visibility for the brand among new and existing audiences, both locally and internationally, especially within the surfing and sports communities. It will be measured through the number of people who see our content and the impression generated by the digital ads. Awareness will be also measured by the partnership with surfing schools that will distribute Super Bock beers after each lesson.

- To enhance brand equity: aligning with a figure known for passion and authenticity, it can enhance the perceived value and reputation of Super Bock, leading to a stronger emotional connection with the customers. We will use tools to obtain the overall sentiment of social media mentions and comments about Super Bock and via surveys to understand customer perceptions and feelings, the kpis will be sentiment score and customer feedback.

- To increase digital engagement: thanks to his presence on digital platforms that can drive higher engagement rates, we can attract his followers and fans to interact with Super Bock's content, participate in campaigns, and share their experiences. The digital engagement will be calculated by likes, comments, shares, and other interactions on Super Bock posts and also through monitoring the growth in social media followers after launching the campaign.

Tactic 3: Bocktoberfest

This beer festival is more than just a showcase of beers, it is an opportunity to create a sense of community among Super Bock consumers, bringing them together in the same place and letting them try and enjoy different flavors and tastes of both Super Bock beers and German ones. In addition to the beers, the festival will also feature live music, food trucks, and interactive workshops led by experts. Thanks to its social media presence, Super Bock will have the possibility to attract a broader audience, including many who are yet not familiar with the brand. The challenges and videos posted could create buzz and excitement, drawing more people to Super Bock's social media accounts and impacting the awareness phase. Additionally, it will have a positive impact on the retention phase.

The intended gains for the company would be:

- To foster consumers loyalty: creating memorable experiences for consumers and ensuring that they associate our brand with positive memories. Our final goal is to create lasting devotion among them and encourage loyalty to the brand; in fact, attending Bocktoberfest can become an annual tradition for both consumers and beer lovers, reinforcing their enthusiasm for the brand. To measure this, we will track the number of posts, videos, and stories created by users related to Boktoberfest, (UGC) as well as the growth on Super Bock social media accounts during and after the event.
- To increase customers engagement both online and offline: via interactive elements of challenges and contests that will encourage users to engage with Super Bock's content. In addition to online engagement, we will also leverage offline opportunities to connect with consumers with several events. Activities that will allow us to increase the connection with our audience. We will monitor engagement metrics such as likes, comments, shares, video views, and also, we plan to analyze the participation rates in challenges and contests.
- To increase sales growth: using the festival also as an opportunity to drive sales of Super Bock products, both during the event and afterwards.
- To enhance brand advocacy: in fact, satisfied attendees might be likely to become brand advocates, spreading positive word-of-mouth and increasing brand loyalty and this could be measured through the number of social media mentions and shares. But it could also be an opportunity to gather customers' information and feedback that can provide valuable insights for future marketing campaigns and product development, measured by the number of email sign-ups, demographic data collected, and feedback response rates.

Appendix

Digital Marketing Diagnostic of owned media:

1. Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/superbock/

More than 1.600 posts, 148.000 follower

- ➔ The tone of voice is fresh, fun and mainly targeted to a young audience
- ➔ They show their products and people that use and enjoy them
- ➔ Often use the layout of their outdoor billboards
- ➔ Presence of stories highlights
- ➔ In their posts the brand tries to create a connection with local festivity, events and occasions - like mothers or father's day, 25 of April (creating a sense of community with the customers)
- ➔ Smart use of the color theme: red and white (like bottles packaging)
- ➔ They often reply to user comments under their posts (but not always)
- ➔ All the captions are written in Portuguese, these can enhance their Portuguese tradition and heritage and help them to create a deeper connection with the local customers.
- ➔ There's a lack of engagement and a sense of community

Improvements:

- ➔ They could enhance their use of stories by encouraging people to share anecdotes related to their products, as well as incorporating polls and question.
- ➔ Lack of a permanent testimonial, someone that could represent the face of the brand and not just relies on football leagues.
- ➔ They could use more videos than images (because they attract an higher numbers of views and allow to raise more awareness)
- ➔ Provide an English transaction under each of their posts might increase reach
- ➔ Their posts tend to focus more on showcasing the products rather than the people who use them, perhaps they could consider alternating between the two

2. TikTok: https://www.tiktok.com/@superbock_pt

Less than 2k followers, 30.1 k likes

- ➔ Just 6 videos
- ➔ Last video published in February
- ➔ They don't use strategically the platform, lack of trends and creativity
- ➔ Lack of smart and most used hashtags useful to attract viewers and going viral
- ➔ The don't use famous songs but prefer to create their own

Improvements:

- ➔ Maybe provide an English translation under each of their posts
- ➔ No biography, they could provide a link to their website and other official accounts
- ➔ Increase the number of short videos to create higher engagement and return over investment

3. Threads:

- ➔ they didn't post anything although they have an official account

4. Youtube: https://www.youtube.com/c/superbock

15,000 subscribers, 113 videos

- ➔ high-quality videos such as interviews, commercials, and also other behind-the-scenes and stories that enhance their values and their messages.

Improvements:

- ➔ they should firstly focus on the frequency of videos published: indeed, just recently they started publishing once a week, first once a month.
- ➔ Then they should maybe post more long content for youtube since this platform is mainly used for long videos - despite the success of "shorts". Thus, using this channel for creating and publishing long videos of behind-the-scenes, short films, and overall, more involving stories.
- ➔ They should engage with users on the comments section, instead of not being present at all

5. Website: https://www.superbock.pt/

- ➔ Responsible design
- ➔ Reliable tone (ex: introducing question 18+)
- ➔ First carousel with news (ex: products launch)
- ➔ Link with other specific sections/websites owned by the brand (radio sbsr.fm)
- ➔ Showcase of group's brand and link to "know more" sections.
- ➔ Call to action to visit the brand's blog / to book a visit in their Casa da Cerveja
- ➔ List of and link to distributors and stores
- ➔ Subscription to newsletter
- ➔ Section for: brand's history (well designed and presented), brand's sustainable commitment
- ➔ General: eye-catchy, fresh design, good user experience, good interconnection between topics

Improvements:

- Adding audiovisual content to make it more engaging

6. Linkedin: https://www.linkedin.com/company/superbockgroup/?originalSubdomain=pt

MACRO-ENVIRONMENT

1. Demographic:

- Aging population: In Portugal, as in many other European countries, the population is ageing, which may influence drinking preferences. Older people may prefer drinks with less alcohol or more sophisticated beverages.
- Young adults: Young adults make up a significant proportion of beer drinkers. Understanding their preferences and behavior is crucial.
- Cultural Diversity: Immigration brings with it increasing cultural diversity, which can influence consumer preferences and offer opportunities for products tailored to a variety of tastes.

2. Economic:

- Economic growth: Super Bock's sales and profitability are influenced by the overall economic conditions in its key markets, for example after the covid the Portuguese GDP has drastically reduced.
- Inflation: “at an expected peak for early 2023 – together with an increase in interest rates and higher prices – particularly energy prices – make up a complex and challenging environment for al”.

3. Natural:
- Climate change: Climatic variations affect hop and barley harvests, influencing the cost and availability of raw materials.
- Support for the Environment: Growing environmental awareness is driving companies to adopt sustainable practices.

4. Technological:
- Product innovation: Technological advances are enabling new beer varieties to be created and production processes to be improved, which can attract new consumers.
- Digital marketing: Using social networks and online platforms for marketing can reach a wider and more diverse audience.
- Automation: Automating production processes can reduce costs and improve efficiency.

5. Political and social:
- Alcohol regulations: Laws and regulations on the sale and advertising of alcoholic beverages may affect the marketing of Super Bock.
- Taxation: Taxes on alcoholic beverages may influence selling prices and, consequently, consumption.
- International trade: Trade policies affecting imports and exports may have an impact on the international distribution of Super Bock.

6. Cultural:
- Changing preferences: Consumers are increasingly looking for craft and local products. Super Bock could capitalize on this trend by offering craft beers or limited editions.
- Health and Wellness: Increased awareness of health issues is leading consumers to moderate their alcohol consumption or choose options with less alcohol or fewer calories.
- Social Events: Portugal's culture of festivals, parties and social events is a major driver of beer consumption.
